Message

from Graduate School Dean

It is my pleasure to congratulate the staff and advisers of the Graduate School Newsletter on the release of its first issue.

The Graduate School has undergone major developments in the past two years, which are pleasing and appreciated by students. In addition to voicing their reactions, students should be partners in the development of the school by implementing proactive strategies, activities, and endeavors.

Graduate School Newsletters must not serve as a tool for heavy criticism of the administration or any individual at this university. Instead, this should be a vehicle to improve learning, to improve public service, and to improve Filipinos' quality of life.

I am challenging the staff of the school paper to remain objective at all times and always adhere to the tenets of responsible journalism.

Thank you and congratulations again.
